

Edith Stein

“Woman” and “Vocation”
and Other Signs of Contradiction presented by

Michael F. Andrews

Tuesday, February 10, 2015

7:15pm

Holy Cross Lounge, Franz Hall 3rd Floor

Michael F. Andrews, Ph.D., is the University of Portland McNerney-Hanson Endowed Chair in Ethics and Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences. In this lecture, Dean Andrews explores the life of Edith Stein in terms of her understanding of “woman” and “vocation.” The celebrated Jewish philosopher and author converted to Catholicism before ultimately perishing in the gas chambers at Auschwitz. She was canonized in October 1998.

For ADA accommodations or event information:
Please contact Jamie Powell at powell@up.edu or (503)943-7702

Listen to our podcast series at wordpress.up.edu/garaventa
Free PDUs offered to K-12 teachers for all Garaventa events